NEAR TRAGEDY—James Monios, 59, of Monessen, driver of the pictured car was not seriously injured, and an unidentified male passenger walked away from the scene of what was a near tragedy in Belle Vernon last night shortly before 6:30 o'clock Monios failed to negotiate the sharp turn on State St just off Main St., when he was crowded by a motorist coming down the hill. The car fell 10 feet, landing on its top in the backyard of a downtown apartment house. It took about two hours to remove the car from this position, and a large crowd was attracted to the scene.

Southern Senators to Oppose Restoration in Foreign Aid

Richard Russell to Lead Opposition; Ike 'Disappointed'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell vowed today to fight any move in the Senate to restore even part of the $842,000,000 newly-slashed by the House from President Eisenhower's foreign aid bill.

Opposition from Russell—leader of the southern bloc and a power on the Senate Appropriations Committee that will consider the bill next Monday—gave clear indication that the expected GOP fight for major restoration of funds faces rough going.

The Georgia Democrat said he did not think the House cuts too severe, despite administration warnings Friday night that the reduction would hamper efforts to keep Russian influence from gaining in many areas of the world

Officials of the International Cooperation Administration said the cuts would require the United States to drop plans to ship Nike guided missiles and other modern weapons to Allied nations.

Russell said "The House bill with the carryover funds gives the program more than can be spent and I know more than should be "spent" in the current fiscal year.

Defy Ike

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. said after a breakfast meeting with Eisenhower this morning that the President is "very much disappointed" at the House cut. Martin said Eisenhower reiterated that the money taken out of the bill is "absolutely" necessary for the United States to meet its commitments to its allies

Martin said he and the President did not discuss the possibility of Eisenhower's calling a special session of Congress this fall if the Senate does not restore most of the House cut. The President has warned he may do this

Martin said Republican leaders are "wishfully hoping" that the Senate will restore the House cut

The House, defying Eisenhower's warning that he might call a special session if the aid program were reduced too much, cut the $3,367,000,000 authorization bill to $2,524,760,000. The new money was in addition to $667,050,000 in unspent "carryover" funds.

Other congressional news:

Civil Rights: House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.) headed for a White House breakfast with President Eisenhower to talk over the civil rights bill. The bill is stuck in the House Rules Committee with Chairman Howard Smith (D-Va.) holding the key to quick action on the measure. Smith, a foe of the measure, was reported to have said he would not call a committee meeting, thus possibly blocking action until next Friday.

Weiss Not Sure on Photo Ban

Judge David H. Weiss told The Daily Independent today he isn't sure whether he will subscribe to the controversial Westmoreland County court rule which prohibits picture-taking in the Greensburg courthouse

The rule, subject of a three-year legal battle between Pennsylvania newspapers and the Westmoreland court, was relaxed yesterday while a commercial photographer, employed by Judge Weiss, made courtroom pictures following his swearing-in.

"I have to check and study the order," the new jurist told The Independent, "to see if it applies to the court in general or if it's up to the individual judge to decide. Until I make that study, I have no comment to make."

The controversy, which has attracted nationwide attention in legal and publishing circles, began in 1954 when Judge Edward G Bauer issued an edict prohibiting photographs in connection with the trial of John Wesley Wable, later executed for killing a truck driver on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Subsequently, Judge Bauer was joined by President Judge Richard D. Laird and Judge John M O'Connell in propounding a formal rule of court banning picture-taking, not only in courtrooms when court is in session but anywhere in the courthouse and even between sessions of court.

Challenge Rule

When the rule was challenged the judges amended it to cover only areas within 40 feet of a courtroom door.

In a test case, they sentenced seven newspaper men to fines and jail terms for taking and publishing pictures of Wable in the courthouse corridors.

In a long series of legal bouts, the rule so far has been upheld by appellate courts, including the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. The latest decision was issued by Judge Wallace S. Gourley of U. S.

Four Members of Crew Killed in Bomber Crash

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—A twin-engine Air Force bomber crashed and exploded just short of a housing development here early today, killing four crewmen and hurling one of its engines into a bedroom vacated only minutes before.

The plane, carrying four crewmen, arrived safely over the field, radioed for landing clearance, then apparently had engine trouble.

The plane, which made its last stop at Barksdale Air Force Base at Shreveport, La., slammed into a field just short of a housing development where many Air Force families live.

Residents in the development said they heard the plane in trouble and alerted the neighborhood Families fled the homes in their night clothes just before the plane hit, around 3 a.m. e.s.t.

Debris from the plane damaged three of the homes, all of which had been evacuated seconds bfore the crash. Six children were among those who fled two of the homes.

Heir of British Baron Accepts Italian's Challenge

MILAN, Italy (UP)—The Hon. Antony Moynihan, fun-loving heir of a British baron, has accepted an Italian's challenge to fight a duel for the honor of a lady—Britain's Queen Elizabeth II

Moynihan said he will take Maj Renato Marmiroli up on the challenge he issued to Lord Altrincham, who said last week that the Queen is a "priggish schoolgirl" whose speeches give him "a pain in the neck."

"While I cannot say that I agree with everything Lord Altrincham has said I nevertheless ..feel it my duty to offer satisfaction to Signor Marmiroli," Moynihan said "At the same time, I would like to stress that it is only my extremely democratic nature that enables me to cross swords with a commoner.

"I am equally happy about swords or pistols. I am taking up the challenge because as a British citizen I am prepared to defend Lord Altrincham's right of free speech to the death—Marmiroli's death, of course."

Cockrill's wife told authorities her husband had been ill and that she was calling an ambulance from a neighbor's home at the time of the shooting.

Harvard Student Tells of Moscow Youth Festival

WASHINGTON (UP)—A young Harvard student just back from the Moscow Youth Festival says the United States would have "everything to gain, nothing to lose" if there were a free exchange of students betwen this country and Russia.

Richard Medalie of St Louis Park, Minn, said such an exchange program "would be the most exciting thing I can think of" as a means of reaching the Russian mind.

"The Russians are hungry for information," Medalie said. "They are like children with insatiable curiosity."

Medalie related his experiences at the Youth Festival Friday to Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), Joseph Clark (D-Pa), Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I) and John Sparkman (D-Ala.)

He was the youth who went into Moscow's Red Square to tell the Russians about the Hungarian revolution and Western views on the international situation. He refused to make the trip to Red China which some other American delegates to the festival made over the objections of the State Department.

Traffic Moving, Kuvinka Says

Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka said that traffic in downtown Monessen is moving "almost uninterupted" since the no parking ban went into effect on the north side of Donner Ave. between Fourth and Sixth streets.

He said, however, that some motorists are taking "too long" to discharge passengers on the north side of the street.

"Passengers should be 'discharged on the south side of Donner, if possible. We want the north side free of parked cars at all times," he stated.

The ban went into effect Aug. 6 and is being tried on a 90-day trial basis.

Senate Probers Plan to Put Hoffa on Stand Next Week

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee will call James R. Hoffa next week to bolster its charge that the crown prince of Teamsters allied with the underworld to grab Teamster control in New York.

In 13 days of hearings the committee has stated its case against Hoffa and called a string of witnesses to back it up, working up from second - team hoodlums to bigger hoods to the second-echelon brass of the nation's biggest union.

Next week's witnesses are expected to include:

—Hoffa himself, Midwest czar of the union as chairman of its Central States Conference, sixth vice president, odds-on choice to succeed Dave Beck next month as Teamster president, and villain of the committee's version of the story.

—Einar O. Mohn, another vice president, right-hand man to Beck, and apparently the man who runs Teamster's headquarters here in Beck's absence.

Charge Against Hoffa

The plot revolves around a charge that Hoffa got the Teamsters Union to issue charters for seven phony, memberless locals in New York shortly before the 1956 election for president of Joint Council 16, controlling body of the Teamsters in New York City. The committee says the fake locals were staffed with henchmen of labor racketeers Johnny Dio and Anthony (Tony Ducks) Corallo, and cast their votes for Hoffa's candidate, John T. O'Rourke.

John J. O'Rourke

The committee also presented evidence that some of the delegates who cast the phony locals' votes for O'Rourke were recruited from crap games and bars, and some persons listed as union officers didn't know they held office.

The committee said that while Hoffa was dealing with Corallo and Dio to set up the paper locals and control Joint Council 16, he also was dickering with the International Longshoremen's Association—booted out of the AFL in 1953 for being riddled with racketeers—for an ambitious alliance which would give him a transportation stranglehold on the Atlantic seaboard and St. Lawrence Seaway.

Croatian Parish to Break Ground Sunday

Ground-breaking ceremonies will be held tomorrow by Monessen's Croatian Catholic parish — St. Anthony of Padua.

The parish, organized five years ago, will begin building its first church at 1184 Leeds Ave.

Rev. Theodore Benkovic, OFM, pastor, said that Msgr. John Stipanovic, of Youngstown, O., will break ground at the site at 4 p. m.

At 6 p. m, the parish will stage a banquet in the Croatian Hall, Schoonmaker Ave, to formally open the building campaign.

The church building will be of cement block with brick-facing. It is hoped that the structure will be ready in time for midnight mass on Christmas.

Under contract to Robert Haury, of Monessen, the basement church will accommodate 300 persons.

Bishop Hugh L. Lamb, of Greensburg, appointed Father Benkovic to organize a Croatian parish in Monessen in 1952. Since Sept. 14, 1952, the parish mass has been celebrated on Sunday at St. Hyacinth's Church.

Midnight masses on Christmas from 1952 through 1955 were held at St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church. In 1956, the Christmas mass was celebrated at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Early this year, Bishop Lamb approved plans for a church. Contracts were awarded last month.

Actual work will begin Monday, according to Father Benkovic.

To mark the occasion, more than 70 of Father Benkovic's relatives from eastern Pennsylvania have chartered two buses to be on hand for tomorrow's ceremonies.

Pre-school Plans Mapped by Board

Pre-school plans and the report from the special building committee featured the August meeting of the Bellmarette Joint School Board on Tuesday evening in the Bellmar High School library.

President Blandon Bulger was in charge. Present from the Belle Vernon School Board were George Trozzo, Joseph Hoffman, Louis Gilliland and J. E. Kuhn; North Belle Vernon, Clifford Breakwell, George Boston, Steve Ruby, Carmine Natalini and Dr. Harold Underwood; Washington Township, Bulger, Richard Hamer and John Kasuda and Fayette City, James Hamer, Bernard Sarra, George Hancock and Charles Lakel.

Also present were Joint School Supervising Principal Robert VanBremen, Elementary Supervisor Joseph Brisbane, Solicitor John E. Costello and Architect C. C. Compton.

The minutes of the regular meeting on July 10 and a special meeting on July 22 were read and approved. The meeting agenda was then suspended to hear several visitors.

Robert Scott and Nello Ferrari representing the Bellmarette Band Boosters asked permission to operate the refreshment stand at the Bellmar Stadium on alternate games from the Varsity Club rather than jointly with the club at each game. The board reserved a decision on this matter since originally the stand was allocated to the Bellmar Band and Varsity Club.

Band Festival

William Vizza, Charles Galligan, and Vic Silvestro representing the Lions Club asked permission for the use of the stadium for a Festival of Bands, Oct. 8 with Oct. 9 as the rain date. After considerable discussion because of the newly planted playing field this was granted. The University of Pittsburgh Band will be brought here along with about six high school bands with the Bellmar unit as the host. Band members will be asked to sell tickets and their organization will receive 20 percent of the proceeds from the tickets they sell.

Ross Boston spoke for the North Belle Vernon Council. He asked that the board share the cost of supplying policewomen to insure the safety of North Belle Vernon students crossing Route 31. Solicitor Costello informed the board that this was an improper expenditure, and Bulger stated that this aid could not be forthcoming since the board members agreed to take no part in a safety program in any one district, since there are equally pressing problems in all four component districts.

George Trozzo reporting for the building and grounds committee stated that the fire escape at the Belle Vernon Grade School had been repaired and painted. It was reported also that the Balta Heating Co. of Clairton had almost completed the installation of a new roof on Bellmar High School. Van Bremen stated that Balta received the contract for this job after presenting recommendations and submitting proper insurance coverage.

Submit Bids

Bids were submitted on the installation of new gutters on the Belle Vernon Grade School by Frank H. Ries of Donora. Bids were taken on the completion of a basement room at Fayette City from R. N. Krusey, Joseph Lettrich and Milo Careatti, all of Charleroi. Bids for the blacktopping project at the Fairhope School were submitted by C. S. Yoder Co. and Westmoreland Paving Co., and bids were received from the Paint and Wallpaper Store, Belle Vernon; for painting the trim on the Marion and Fairhope buildings.

No action was taken on the bids pending the outcome of the opening of bids for the new additions to Bellmar High School and Marion Junior High School on Aug. 20, at Harrisburg.

The annual rating of all teachers was submitted, and permanent contracts were authorizdd for Thomas Banjor and Elizabeth Stummell.

The new health regulations from the Department of Public Instruction were presented and were later discussed by VanBremen.

Kuhn reported that the officers of the special building committee met to discuss the bid opening next Tuesday. VanBremen was appointed to represent the Joint Board and to attend all construction meetings in connection with the projects.

R. C. Bartman head of the State School Building Authority notified the board that a quorum of members from each component board should attend the bid opening. In case a majority of each board cannot attend a resolution has been passed by each board authorizing the president and secretary to act for the board. A similar resolution was passed by the Joint Board.

Transfer Money

Kuhn recommended that $10,000 be transferred to the special building fund in order to pay Architects C. C. and E. E. Compton in accordance with the professional agreement. The board will be reimbursed at a later date. Reimbursement was also approved for coretest borings and other costs involved in the program. Kuhn also stated that the board had received a 60 day extension on the time allowance for the two building projects.

VanBremen reported that a committee will be set up to arrange for the voting in the program of integration of Social Security in the retirement program.

Lloyd Githens reported for all the brokers involved in the Joint School District insurance program. He stated that the new five year plan went into effect on Aug. 15. The $1,740,000 insurance coverage was divided among Monessen Realty Co., Thompson and Githens Agency, Glen Anderson, Gladys Miller, J. Y. Wilkinson and William Vizza.

There was no report from the transportation committee.

Richard Hamer reported that the football team would have pre-season training at Marion Junior High School at a cost of $400.

The supplies committee presented quotations on the cost of drapes for Vernon Junior High School from Tiffin Scenic Studio Inc at $941. This was approved for the auditorium windows.

Teachers Resign

The personnel committee announced the resignations of Sara LaTorre, Bellmar commercial teacher, Albert Beller, Marion custodian and William Sowden, North Belle Vernon elementary custodian. These were accepted.

Mrs. Mildred Coatsworth, of California, was employed for the commercial post and Bruno Zeli was recommended by the North Belle Vernon board for its custodian post This was approved.

Cafeteria applications from Ann Maksa and Rosa McCarthy were filed.

A teaching contract was issued to Mrs. Doris Tedesco, who substituted last year at Vernon Junior High School. VanBremen reported he is compiling a complete list of substitutes for the 57-58 term. The personnel committee is continuing to interview teaching applicants

The personnel and athletic committee submitted the following recommendations, all of which were approved. Baptist Manzini was appointed custodian of all equipment and facilities at a salary of $200. The assistant football coaches will receive a salary of $300 and the assistant basketball coach will receive the same salary. The Vernon and Marion Junior High coaches will receive salaries of $500 for their duties. No recommendation was submitted for the varsity baseball coach or assistant basketball coach posts.

Clifford Breakwell explained the method of arriving at the new salaries for the custodians. They are: Fairhope School, $155 monthly; Fayette City, $235; Marion Grade, $287; Marion Junior High, $243; North Belle Vernon Grade, $265; Belle Vernon Grade, $235; Vernon Junior High $265 and Bellmar High $375. The latter salary is divided with $300 for the custodian and $75 for the assistant. The increases given were included in the $1870 allocated in the budget.

Marion Kindergarten

Brisbane reported a continually increasing enrollment for the Marion kindergarten, and was authorized to employ the teacher for a full day instead of a half as originally intended.

VanBremen reported on the Supervising Principals Conference which he attended in July at Penn State University. He announced that it was advised that the board adopt and enforce rules and regulations on management of school affairs. VanBremen was also given permission to assign several local elementary students to special education classes in Rostraver Township. He recommended Dr. Vincent Bolton as school physician, Dr Harold Underwood as school dentist and Mrs. Mary Kuhn as clerk for the dental and health examinations. Also recommended was the purchase of office equipment, office practice equipment and a large calculator.

VanBremen announced that the religious education classes will be carried out as in the past.

Appointed as tabulators for the Social Security vote were Breakwell, C. Ambrose and Mrs. Jeanne Brody. The recommendation of the Washington Township Board will have to be received before a custodian is named for the Marion School.

Special education teacher Georgette Wiles was given permission to do her student teaching the first week of October. Five afternoons during the month she will go to California State Teachers College for conferences.

Mrs. Coatsworth, a speech specialist will conduct the program for the Bellmarette District, Perry-Lower Tyrone, Dawson and Vanderbilt. The total cost will be prorated at approximately 1,188.40.

John Kopp, a Bellmar teacher, submitted his resignation to accept a teaching post at Rostraver High School The board voted to release him if a suitable replacement can be secured. If not he will have to observe his 60 day notice clause in his contract.

Financial Secretary Breakwell and Recording Secretary Kuhn were granted salary raises of $150 each.

Breakwell submitted the financial report, bills were ordered paid and the meeting adjourned.

Voter Registration In Fayette County

There will be field registration for Fayette County voters next Tuesday, Aug. 20 from 2 p. m. until 8 p. m. This registration is for the November election.

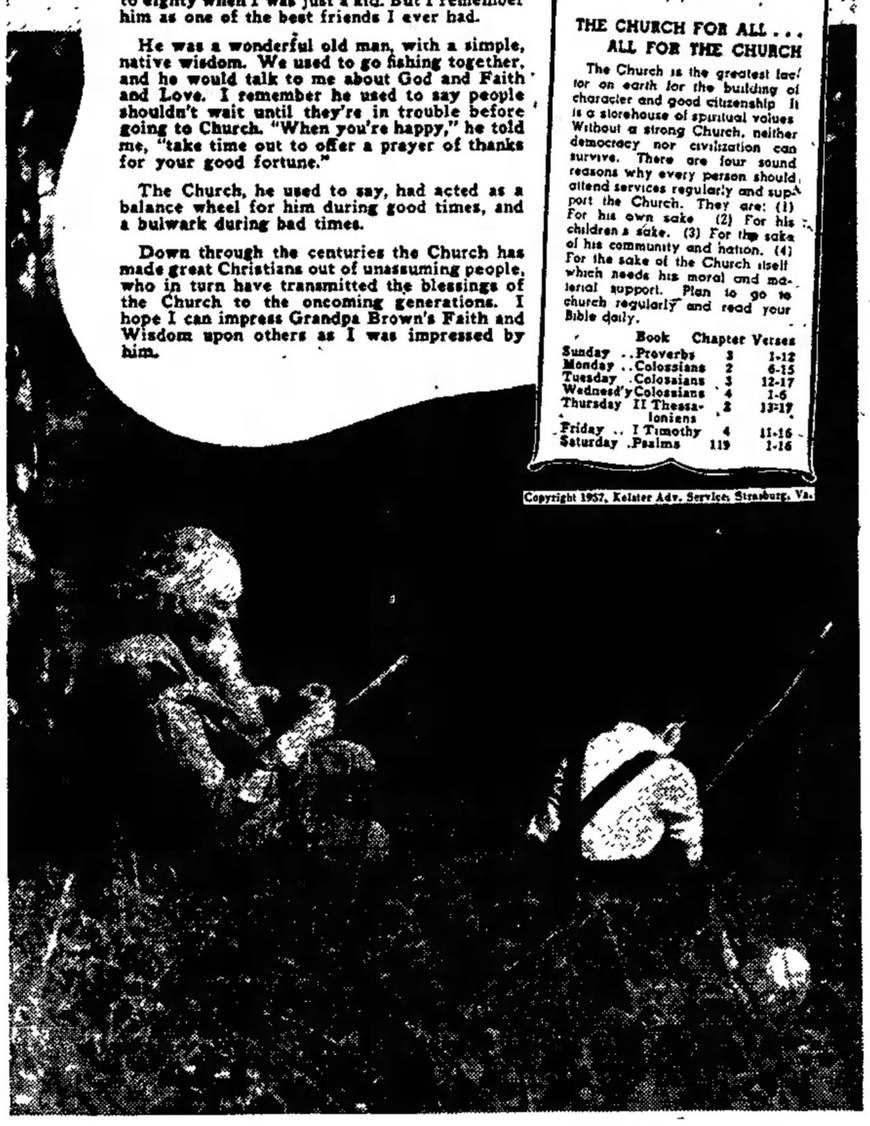
MY FRIEND

Folks used to wonder what Grandpa Brown and I had in common. He must have been close to eighty when I was just a kid. But I remember him as one of the best friends I ever had.

He was a wonderful old man, with a simple, native wisdom. We used to go fishing together, and he would talk to me about God and Faith and Love. I remember he used to say people shouldn't wait until they're in trouble before going to Church. "When you're happy," he told me, "take time out to offer a prayer of thanks for your good fortune."

The Church, he used to say, had acted as a balance wheel for him during good times, and a bulwark during bad times.

Down through the centuries the Church has made great Christians out of unassuming people, who in turn have transmitted the blessings of the Church to the oncoming generations. I hope I can impress Grandpa Brown's Faith and Wisdom upon others as I was impressed by him.



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship It is a storehouse of spiritual values Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Circulate Petition Against Negro Family

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (UP) — A petition was circulated in this previously all-white community today in hopes of getting the first Negro family to purchase a home here to move.

The petition was passed around Friday night at a meeting of some 600 residents after reports were received that William Myers Jr., intended to stay despite the protests.

Myers, visiting his parents in York, Pa., declared he would move back into the house when a hot water heater is installed. He has not occupied the house since he moved in Tuesday, when two windows were shattered during a demonstration.

"Nothing whatever will prevent me from living in the house," Myers declared. "I bought the home and I intend to live there."

The petition stated the residents of Levittown "protest the mixing of Negroes in our previously all-white community."

Protect Interest

"As moral, religious and law-abiding citizens, we feel that we are unprejudiced and undiscriminating in our wish to keep our community a closed community... to protect our own interests," it said.

James Newell, one of the leaders of the newly-formed Levittown Betterment Association, said the group hopes to get the signatures of 51 per cent of the community's homeowners on the petition. John Bentley, a former Bristol Twp. zoning officer, told the meeting not to "panic and rush to sell their homes."

Meanwhile, a quiet crowd of 250 persons gathered for the fourth consecutive night in front of he Myers home, which was guarded by state and local police. There was no violence.

District Court at Pittsburgh. Newspapers have not yet decided whether to appeal Judge Gourley's ruling.

The late Judge George H. McWherter, whose place on the bench Judge Weiss is now filling by appointment, never subscribed to the rule. However, he was ill for many months before his death last April, and his views on the picture ban were never made known publicly.

The rule, known as No. 205 of the Westmoreland County Rules of Court, states in part:

No Pictures

"No pictures or photographs shall be taken, immediately preceding or during sessions of this court or recesses between sessions, in any of the court rooms or any place in the court house within forty feet of the entrance to any court room."

The rule also applies to prisoners or inmates of the county jail on the "way to or from a session of court".

The court was in session while Judge Weiss was taking the oath yesterday. It was adjourned by Judge Laird, who was presiding, and the picture-taking session followed the adjournment.

No notice was given to newspapers covering the ceremony that pictures would be permitted in the courtroom.

Brothers Collide In Head-on Crash

MOSCOW (UP) — The Communist organ Pravda limited its coverage of the Soviet airline crash which killed 2 persons in Copenhagen Thursday to a 45 word official announcement on the back page of today's edition.

It did not print a passenger list.

Unofficial sources said one of the victims, a man in his 40's variously identified as John or George Brand or Brandt, was an American traveling from Afghanistan to the Danish capital. No details of his background could be obtained immediately.

dicted House action next week on a "hardship" immigration bill that would allow thousands of additional immigrants to enter the United States. The bill also would allow the attorney general and the State Department to jointly waive fingerprinting requirements for some foreign visitors such as artists and students. The bill was approved Friday by the House Judiciary Committee, but without any liberalization of basic immigration quotas as requested by President Eisenhower.

Postal: Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) of the Senate Post Office Committee indicated the postal rate boost does not have much chance of Senate approval this year. Johnston said his committee already has numerous requests from organizations wanting to testify on the measure. He indicated there would not be enough time to hear from all the organizations before Congress adjourns for the year.

Confidential Magazine Seeks To Prove Stories Were True

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines recessed for the week end today with some movie stars seeing little hope of avoiding embarrassment in forthcoming testimony.

The defense opened its case Friday by taking testimony from James Craig, 27, a former theater manager, about a "cuddling" incident involving film star Maureen O'Hara and an unidentified escort.

Craig testified that the story published in the March, 1957 issue of Confidential about alleged misconduct of Miss O'Hara in a theater was true.

Miss O'Hara denied the story shortly after its publication and sued the magazine.

Defense attorneys put Craig on the stand in an attempt to prove that articles printed by the magazines about the private lives of celebrities are true and published without malice.

Craig said he told the story to Confidential because he did not think the alleged behavior was proper in such a public place. He said he received a $200 check for giving the information to Confidential even though he had not asked for any money.

SUPERIOR JUDGE — Herbert V. Walker is hearing the criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines n Hollywood, Calif.

Michael C. G. D. Mordaunt-Smith, 30, another defense witness, identified himself as a newsman from London who had served Confidential as its European correspondent.

He said he had checked out between 700 and 800 stories for truth and accuracy before submitting them for publication. He testified that only about 50 had been accepted and said Confidential publisher Robert Harrison had warned him that "if there is any doubt about the truth of the story, let it go."

Fulton, Ike In Long Chat

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa.) visited President Eisenhower at the White House and discussed topics ranging from the foreign aid fight to a search for a missing young McKees Rocks, Pa., veteran.

The President assured Fulton he would ask the Air Force to consider making a search for the veteran, Richard E. Moros, who disappeared in the Yukon more than two years ago.

Fulton was asked by the youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Moros, of McKees Rocks, to help find their 26-year-old son. He went into the northern wilds on June 24, 1955, with the announced intention of remaining two years.

Fulton said Moros got the idea from reading the Jack London stories. A territorial police search party that tried to follow his trail early this month found only an abandoned camp.

Fulton told Eisenhower the story Friday and asked if he could order an Air Force search of the area.

American Airmen Put Church Angel in Place

SACILE, Italy (UP) — A new angel watches over this tiny town 50 miles north of Venice today, compliments of the parish priest and the U.S. Army.

Ten thousand villagers watched in breath-taking silence Friday as an Air Force helicopter lifted the 1,400-pound copper statue and its iron base to the top of San Nicolo Church where workmen grabbed it and secured it to the belfry 200 feet above the ground.

Only then did the villagers shout approval and clap their hands.

The copper statue replaced a wooden "angel" that stood on the belfry for centuries.

In 1936, however, an earthquake rocked the town, damaging the wooden statue, and last year it was struck by lightning.

The people of Sacile reluctantly agreed that the statue must be replaced. They quickly contributed funds enough for a new, and grander, statue.

The local sculptor, Pietro Piccinini, produced a beautiful angel replica with wings spread wide and his right hand lifted toward heaven. His left hand pointed over the village in a protective gesture.

The big problem which arose was to get the eight-foot statue and its iron base up the rickety old steps of the 14th Century church.

The priest called on the U.S. Army's South European Task Force in Udine.

The Army, in the persons of Capt William M. Strawn of Morgantown, W.Va., co-pilot 1st Lt. Ramon F. Warner of Fillmore, Utah, and specialist pilot Richard L. Boyd of Arcola, W.Va., flew to the rescue.

With 10,000 villagers and farmers watching, they chained the statue to the helicopter and hoisted it to its perch above the town.

The whole thing took 15 minutes.

Former Local Man Advanced

Warren Shepler, former local man, son of L. W. Shepler, of Rostraver Township, has been appointed to a new position in the Delhas Joint School system at Levittown in north suburban Philadelphia.

He has been named assistant regional superintendent in charge of instruction of approximately 400 teachers in the fast growing school system in Buck's County. There is presently an enrollment of 9,000 students in the system with an $8,000,000 building program underway to provide facilities for 14,000 in the next three years.

For the past three years Shepler has served as assistant professor of secondary education in the School of Education at the University of Pittsburgh. He expects to assume his new duties on Oct. 7.

Good Fire Service

A DETAILED study by the Pennsylvania Economy League has confirmed what most Monessen people have felt for a long time about their Volunteer Fire Department. Namely, that it does a splendid job of protecting the community.

The Economy League found that the equipment is good, that it is adequately housed and cared for and that the firemen are generally well trained.

This all results in an unusually low annual loss, which in turn makes for relatively low insurance rates besides the most important preservation of property and life.

Much of the credit for the hign state of efficiency of the Fire Department, we believe, has to go to the municipal fire chief, W. Roy McShaffrey. Although Mr. McShaffrey gets a small stipend from the City government, his service goes far beyond the requirements of the job. And Monessen is indeed fortunate that a man of his ability and interest is available to direct its fire-fighting service.

Without being blunt about it, the Economy League offers some constructive criticism. It suggests that there should be better coordination between the two fire companies, and that for fire defense purposes, the municipal chief should be the unquestioned boss of both companies.

The report further suggests that each company should have a deputy chief responsible to Mr. McShaffrey and that all paid employes should be subject to civil service regulations.

City Council has long been considering the need for a better alarm system, and the Economy League supports this need and suggests some alternatives which deserve study. It also advocates a fire prevention code for the city and the use of an inspection report.

The Economy League has done a useful piece of work. Both its commendations and its suggestions have merit and deserve the attention of the city officials concerned.

It All Depends

WE HAVE believed right along that the now famous rule against taking pictures in the Westmoreland County courthouse was a piece of judicial caprice designed more to serve the whims and prejudices of the judges than any good public purpose.

No better proof of that is required than the action of Judge Richard D. Laird yesterday in relaxing the rule and permitting a commercial photographer in the courtroom to make pictures following the swearing-in of Judge David H. Weiss.

What this action seems to say is that the rule was invented as a means of keeping nosey newspaper photographers from helping to report the proceedings of the courts to the public. But the rule doesn't apply when the judges put on a political clambake of their own.

We have insisted throughout this controversy that the courts and the courthouse belong to the people — not to judges or lawyers or favored politicians. What goes on in the courts is the peoples' business, and they have a right to be informed about it by every legitimate means, including news photography, which does not interfere with the orderly administration of justice.

Rules of court, like laws, cannot be enforced against some and ignored to favor others. Not, that is, unless we are ready to forsake the principle of "equal justice under the law".

Cutting Foreign Aid

THE MANNER in which a majority of the House of Representatives is slashing President Eisenhower's requests for foreign aid funds is approaching irresponsibility.

It is our firm national policy, agreed to by both parties and repeatedly endorsed by the voters at the polls, that we shall assist friendly nations by military and economic aid to maintain a common front against Communism.

While there is room for difference of opinion as to how much aid is possible and desirable from year to year, what the House is doing now goes to the extreme of undermining the policy itself. It has cut $809 million from the President's recommended appropriations, which had totaled just over $4 billion.

It is not pleasant to think that politics is having a part in these actions, but we are much afraid that that is the case. Even Democrats with long records of supporting foreign aid programs, which were initiated under a Democratic President, are supporting the cuts along with economy-minded Republicans.

This is no time to be scuttling one of the integral phases of our foreign policy, and those congressmen who are slashing the foreign aid program are doing just that. They may well be able to tell their constituents that they are "saving money". But that will be poor recompense if the nation's safety is jeopardized

Jury Trial Backers Are Rewarded

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — This column recently reported the amazing manipulations by which Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas masterminded the passage of civil rights bill and secured adoption of the jury trial amendment. I now find that I owe Senator Johnson an apology.

Mr. Pearson

I underestimated his political prowess Here are some of his additional backstage moves which I did not know about.

It was young Sen. Frank Church of Idaho who broadened the jury trial amendment to include, among others, jury trials for labor unions in case they violated labor injunctions. This won the potent support of the Railroad Brotherhoods, United Mine Workers, and Postal Employes.

Senator Church has now received his reward. He and Mrs. Church have departed for Rio De Janeiro, then on to Buenos Aires to attend the Pan American Economic Conference as part of the American delegation, all expenses paid.

As one of the youngest members of the Senate, the attractive Senator from Idaho would not ordinarily rate such appointment. Many older senators would like to take this nice trip to South America. Senator Johnson, however, threw the reward to Church.

Quick Judgeships

A lot of people wondered why Senators Schoeppel of Kansas and Butler of Maryland, both staunch administration Republicans, deserted the administration on the jury trial amendment. These people, like this column, underestimated Lyndon Johnson. Here is the inside story of what happened:

Both senators have wanted extra federal judges appointed in their states. On Jan. 7, Senator Schoeppel introduced a bill to provide a new U. S. district judge in Kansas. On Jan. 17, Senator Butler introduced a simular bill for a new judge in Maryland. These bills went to the Senate Judiciary Committee, chairmanned by Senator Eastland of Mississippi, bitter foe of civil rights. There they gathered dust. No action was taken.

Suddenly, three days after the jury trial amendment was adopted by the Senate (and after both Schoeppel and Butler voted for that amendment), their two bills were reported out of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on August 7. Two days later, they were reported to the full Senate without a single comma or semicolon changed. Senator Eastland, chairman, had taken the cue from Lyndon Johnson.

Similar bills were introduced in the last Congress but got nowhere. This time, however, Senators Butler and Schoeppel voted for the jury trial amendment and immediately got their reward.

Apologies to Lyndon for underestimating his backstage ability.

Merry-Go-Round

Jimmy Hoffa, No. 2 Teamster boss, got a big ovation from Detroit home folks last week They threw a swank party for him at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel. Mayor Albert Cobo, Republican, was present to pour on the praise and to congratulate Jimmy on his recent acquittal . . . Jimmy is now jumping once again into Michigan politics. His friend, Councilwoman Blanche Parent Wise, has named him to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors. She and Hoffa are also credited with a unique device to defeat Ed Carey for councilman. Two unknown Negro candidates, also named Carey, have been placed on the Detroit primary ballot. Amos Carey's name comes just before Ed Carey and Johnny Carey comes right after. Detroit voters are going to have a hard time knowing which Carey is which . . . Hoffa has long been a staunch Republican, has also long opposed Democratic Gov. Mennen Williams, the greatest vote getter in the history of Michigan. Privately Williams always hopes that Hoffa will oppose him. Hoffa always fulfills that wish. Williams always wins. Though a Democrat in a Republican state, Williams has been elected more times than any other man in history.

Congressmen's "Private" Bills

Congressmen who refused to vote a school construction bill this year simultaneously debated behind the closed doors of the Ways and Means Committee how far they could go in passing "private" bills. These are bills of special interest to congressmen, usually to do favors for individual constituents.

Jere Cooper of Tennessee, forthright chairman of Ways and Means, reminded his colleagues they had agreed not to take up any tax bills that might involve "substantial" loss of revenue. He further proposed that the congressmen reach an agreement as to what "substantial" meant, and that private interest tax bills be limited to $1,000,000.

Other members of the committee were not so altruistic. They promptly overruled him, made the limit of $100 million.

The Dames Getting Too Expensive

Today and Tomorrow—

Senate Bill Called Strong

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The issue on the Senate civil rights bill is now very narrow, except for the southern politicians who do not want any bill and for the northern politicians who want to play politics with the bill.

Speaker Rayburn who will be followed by the Democrats in the House, is offering an amendment to cure what such a champion of civil rights as Senator Javits of New York calls "the primary legal defect in the Senate bill" — namely, "its failure to limit the jury trial amendment to civil rights cases only."

Mr. Lippmann

After this, on what principle can northern Republican politicians argue that it would be better to let the bill die than to pass an amended version of the Senate bill? A civil rights bill which can command the support of Mr. Rayburn of Texas and of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is almost too good to be true, and it will be hard to condone a maneuver to make it fail.

Important Measure

As a matter of fact, the Senate bill, even with the provision for jury trials in criminal contempt cases, is a very big measure. It inaugurates a new national policy, that the federal government has the duty to take the initiative in securing and protecting the constitutional rights of Negroes to vote. It vests in the executive legal powers to intervene in southern elections, to go into the federal courts for civil injunctions which, without jury trial, mean that imprisonment or fines can be imposed on those who violate the injunction.

Why this should be called a weak bill is more than I can understand. For the procedure under civil contempt, which does not require a jury trial, is a very great power.

Would it be a "stronger" bill if it promised more, if in addition to a promise to protect and secure the vote, the bill proposed to integrate the public schools? Supposing that a wide bill, such as the one which came from the House, could be passed, it would be almost impossible to enforce it. For it would unite the resistance of the southern states, and it would place upon the Department of Justice a more impossible task than did the old and thoroughly discredited Prohibition Amendment.

Enforcement Difficult

The true measure of a bill's "strength" is not how much it promises but how much it can be expected to deliver. What we ought to be worrying about is how the Eisenhower administration and its successors are to meet the huge responsibility put upon them by the Senate bill, and how they are to exercise the large legal powers with which the bill invests them.

I say we ought to be worrying about these questions of policy because not a hint has as yet been given by the administration leaders that they realize what big and difficult decisions will confront them when the bill is passed. They talk and act as if any civil rights measure that is passed will then automatically be realized in practice.

Yet the crux of the matter is the enforcibility of any bill that is enacted, and the difference between a politician and a statesman is that the politician is interested in the promises and the statesman is interested in enforcibility. Does not the history of the problem of civil inequality in this country prove conclusively that declarations of rights can be nothing but empty sounds if the resistance is strong enough?

That is why the Senate bill is so extraordinary. It is the first bill for civil rights which contains strong powers of enforcement and is not being resisted irreconcilably by the political leaders of the South.

An Endorsement of the 'Sedentary Vacation'

By HARRY R. PORE, Jr.

Travel is a splendid invention and will get nothing but the warmest endorsement from me. It is an excellent way to spend a vacation — interesting, educational and broadening (for those who want to be broader).

But I would like to put in a few good words today for the sedentary vacation, the kind which is spent, not necessarily in a sitting or prone position, but the kind which is spent in one place.

I speak from recent experience when I say that this sort of vacation has much to recommend it.

Perhaps, in terms of the basic benefits, t doesn't make a lot of difference where the sedentary vacation is spent. A shady porch, a lawn or garden, a tennis court or golf course near home are some of the desirable ingredients, and I guess the spirit can be revived satisfactorily at home.

In my own case, however, it seems better to put more distance between me and the scenes of daily labor. The sounds and problems of a newspaper office have a way of echoing in the editor's mind during his waking hours when he is within economical telephoning distance. And appealing as my home surroundings are for me, I doubt that I could have an entirely successful vacation in them.

To Vermont Again

Which takes us to Vermont. And while this involves some highway travel, which I do not especially enjoy, the travel is incidental. The vacation really begins and ends in Vermont.

We "sat down" for our vacation this year, as we did last summer, in that broad valley on the east shore of Lake Champlain.

The sun comes up over the Green Mountains which are about ten miles in the distance. And it goes down behind the Adirondacks, which rise sharply out of the lake and are close enough for one to see the individual trees on clear days.

The valley where we stay is almost as flat as the surface of Champlain itself, and the mountains on both sides give a feeling of shelter and isolation.

The flatness makes possible a golf course which is negotiable by an aging and not overly ambitious player with a reasonable expenditure of energy. And they added three new holes this year which skirt the north shore of Buttonmould Bay.

If you have read Kenneth Roberts' "Northwest Passage", one of the finest of American historical novels, you may remember Buttonmould Bay — or just Button Bay as it's known locally.

The man who planned the new golf holes put a little dogleg in one of them which is not suited to the peculiarities of my game. And I found myself as a rule striding out from the tee in an easterly direction whereas it would have been more expert to go just slightly west.

View Is Better

But for a man who plays golf as a means to an end and who has his temperament under control, this minor error in navigation does not produce unhappy results. For the view from the rough to the left of the fairway is across the placid water of Button Bay, and both of its small islands in sight. Whereas the golfer who goes to the green by the direct route may get there in fewer strokes, but he stares only into a wall of trees.

My point (if one is necessary) is that a few days or a couple of weeks spent in a setting which is familiar and which one finds pleasant but which is removed from the sights and sounds and chores of the home front is a happy vacation choice.

I'm sure it is possible to have such a respite without driving all the way to Vermont. We must have many places which do as well for others right in Pennsylvania.

But once you have found what you want and feel you need as we seem to have found it in the Champlain country, the intervening miles are not a deterrent, and there is no point in looking elsewhere.

There are innumerable places in the world which we want to visit, time and money being the only limiting factors on our desire for travel. But there is a cool valley up there in Vermont between two mountain ranges with a lovely lake beside it. And we know refreshment is to be had there. We made our reservations for next summer before we left.

Bait for Bass and Some Related Items

By JOHN H. DAY

I picked my way down the steep bank, through great drifts of Christmas fern, and hit the wide stream bed at a point where the water skids across a long stretch of flat, slippery ledges. A sizeable chunk of sandstone had found lodgment in this sluiceway, defying flood waters to push it on downstream. I eased this rock over slowly, and immediately picked up a fat, full-grown hellgrammite, which came floating out with the silt.

The smallmouth bass of these rocky streams regards the crawling hellgrammite as so much ice cream and cake. Even the lowly creek chub throw all caution to the winds when one of these delicious "clippers" comes floating by. I transferred the ugly-looking creature into my bait box, and took a severe nip from those vicious jaws during the operation.

Huge tracks in the mud shallows edging the stream revealed where a great blue heron had stalked along with measured tread, with a weather eye out for an unwary minnow in striking distance. Muskrat tracks lined several runways and on one small beach lay the remains of a coon shore dinner. The claws and other discarded bits of several crawfish bore evidence of the coon's skill in scuttling these fellows out of the shallows at midnight.

Colorful Blooms

I waded upstream for a mile or so, admiring the colorful blooms of the purple-flowering raspberry, which climbed the bank above the stream, and the tall blue vervain, which populated all the little islands. A big cicada miscalculated and fell into the water at my feet, making a great splutter as he tried to take off from that liquid runway. I had visions of watching a big bass strike and tossed him toward a promising pool. When he found himself airborne he fooled me, turned on the motors and zoomed on into the trees.

The shallows were alive with crawfish, and each stretch harbored a large school of minnows. Several fingerling bass nosed about in these sunlit flats. The white chalky egg splotches on the sycamores, leaning over the water contained thousands of future hellgrammites, of whom a favored few will survive to take up posts beneath the rocks for another three years.

I turned over a good many stones during that mile along the stream, but I was not using a net and had picked up only one more good bass bait when I gave up the hunt. After exploring a pawpaw thicket and finding no trace of the odd fruits, I climbed out of the stream to the roadway and so back to the car, noting several plants of the American spikenard bearing huge clusters of the resinous berries which will tickle the palates of songbirds passing through in the fall migration.

There are several large pools at the lower end of this stream. I was heading that way when I came upon a man and four boys engaged in cutting an entry to a primitive coal-workings, from which they will dispense the poor quality "hillside" coal to the neighborhood. In breaking out the moist shale they had unearthed two fair-sized marbled salamanders, which they had penned up in a coffee can.

Clipper Works

I had never used salamanders for bass but when bait is scarce you can't be choosy. So with two hellgrammites and two salamanders in the bait box I rigged up the fly rod, tied on a No. 2 sneck hook and pushed through the weeks to the streamside. Here beneath a huge sycamore I dropped a clipper on the water and watched it wriggle beneath the surface. The first few casts brought no results. Suddenly, at about the tenth cast, the line moved off in the old familiar manner. I tightened slowly to locate the fish, then set the hook and brought in a plump 12-inch smallmouth.

I moved downstream a few feet, strung on a salamander and practically duplicated the first performance, hooking a somewhat smaller bass on about the tenth cast. I tried the other salamander and this time got a terrific strike which snapped the bait off the hook and kept on going. The lone hellgrammite left was wasted on a sizeable chub, who fooled me into striking. With a score of three fish for four bait I called it a day and took down the tackle.

Down the road I came across an old resident chopping out weeds with a pole handled scythe. He "batches" in an old shanty edging the timber and odd-jobs for his living. I traded the bass with him for some conversation and learned that an Indian encampment once stood near his shanty. He showed me several flint points and other artifacts and we made a date to explore several Indian graves he had located. Wayside wandering is a fascinating business. You hunt hellgrammites to catch bass and wind up digging out early Americans.

'Personal Reasons' – Chomko; Fans Dissent

"Personal reasons" — that's the explanation of Nick Chomko, recently-resigned Monessen High assistant football coach, for his action in giving up the post. "They are reasons upon which I would rather not elaborate as I don't want to stir up anything," is the way the mild-mannered former Duquesne U. gridder put it. Others, however, seem to feel differently about the situation. Take for example the "mail bag" item below. Nick would possibly be interested in another coaching job and two just happen to be open in the district for assistants. Charleroi needs an aide and so does Redstone. Mike Booth resigned at Charleroi to take a new position and also to serve a tour of duty with Uncle Sam. John Katusa resigned at Redstone to take the assistant's job at Monongahela.

* * *

From the Mail Bag: The following exerpts are from a letter which was delivered here yesterday, properly signed and requesting printing, from Nick Staffieri and the employes of the No. 1 Rod Hill: "We read the other day that Nick Chomko, assistant football coach, resigned. . . . We are positive he was under paid. Nick is a man with a family and his salary was not enough for his responsibilites . . . The same goes for the rest of Niccolai's staff . . . As to Nick's coaching ability, he was liked by players of the past and those coming up. No one gets along better with poungsters. He was a tower of strength to Niccolai . . . It would be a shame to see someone else grab Nick's talent . . . The basketball coaches got a raise why not the football coaches? . . . We hope Nick, who is very modest, isn't angry at us for "nosing" but we couldn't help it."

Shrine Game Ducats on Sale Here

Tickets for the second annual Syria Shrine football game at Forbes Field on September 14 between the Steelers and Chicago Bears are on sale at many district places of business. In Monessen, the ducats can be obtained at Monessen Laundry and Cleaning Co. from Jack Sylvester. Other district distributing points, are Charleroi Pharmacy, Millers Drug Store, Monongahela, Moravek's Store, Fayette City . . . A special two-hour Shrin-a-rama, featuring more than ten marching musical units, will be the pre-game attraction, starting at 6 o'clock. Game time is 8:15 o'clock . . . September 14 is a Saturday night date.

Monessen school director Alex (Moonie) Kachmarik disapproves over the lenghthy MHS complimentary ticket list, which this year includes 184 free seats. As a matter of fact, Kachmarik is so opposed to the complimentary policy that he's refused to accept the six free tickets to which he is entitled as a current director . . . The long complimentary list is nothing new for Monessen. The free tickets go to persons who contribute services to the Greyhound athletic program. All ministers in the city are also taken care of. Each current director is entitled to six tickets while each former director gets two. Kachmarik feels the current directors should waive their big cut of complimentaries.

Bellmar Coach Needs Living Quarters

Any sports fan know where a man with a family of six, — wife, four children can buy or rent a home in the Belle Vernon-Washington Township-Fayette City area? If you do, contact Bellmar's new cage mentor Tom Healey at Belle Vernon 1857. Healey will also assist Bap Manzini in football and is all set to report for duty but hasn't found a dwelling for his family . . . Incidentally, the Hurricanes will train at Marion Junior High or as Bap puts it "Camp Swamp Fox"* . . . That's no reflection on the condition of the camp, its in reference to General Marion after whom the Marion School was named. Apparently Manzini also knows his history.

Today's Sports Parade—

Bowling Sport That Appeals to All Stars

By LEE JOUGLARD
ABC Singles Champion

NEW YORK (UP)—If there is one sport that appeals to stars in every other sport, it just has to be bowling. In touring the country as an exhibition bowler, I found standout performers in every sport you can name — baseball, football, boxing, basketball, the works—who also excel on the bowling lanes.

Take baseball, for instance. I'll bet you didn't know that one of the game's real hook-ball artists —and I mean bowling hook-ball artists—is lefty Billy Pierce. The Chicago White Sox star is a lefty bowler, too, incidentally.

Billy sharpens his game during the winter months at his home outside Detroit and finds it a source of real family fun. His wife, Gloria, has taken to the sport, and his 4-year-old youngster, Billy Jr., comes along to watch.

Billy's teammate, Nellie Fox, is even more of a bowling fan. Nellie owns and operates twenty alleys in his home town of Chambersburg, Pa., and his recreation center is one of the East's real bowling showplaces.

Equipped with automatic pinspotters and underlane ball returns, "Nellie Fox Bowl," as it's been named, operates 24 hours a day. And Nellie admits he's his own best customer. He belongs to two ABC - sanctioned bowling leagues and works out on the lanes several times a week.

"It's tough to walk by that row of lanes," Nellie says, "and not want to toss a ball at those pins."

Pro footballers are another group who agree that bowling is healthful and relaxing. Otto Graham, formerly of the Cleveland Browns and one of the game's all - time greats, finds bowling a wonderful sport because as he puts it: "You haven't got eleven guys trying to knock the living daylights out of you."

Gus Mauls The Maples

If you think Gus Lesnevich packed a wallop in the ring, you should see his bowling "punch." Gus mauls the maples at lanes near his home in Cliffside Park N.J., and boasts an average that approaches the 180 mark. Jim Braddock, Tony Canzoneri, and Rocky Marciano are boxers who look to bowling for competitive fun without the rock and sock of the prize ring.

The tallest bowler in the country — he is the tallest basketball player, too, I guess — is without doubt Wilt The Stilt Chamberlain of the University of Kansas. Wilt who stretches to just under seven feet, disproves the theory that a real tall person can't be a good bowler. Despite his stature, he is able to bowl with the best of the amateurs.

All Tennis Winners Listed

All winners were 'in' in the City Tennis Tournament today.

Recreation Supervisor Lucille Musial, who is in charge of the tourney, co-sponsored by the Department of Recreation and American Legion Post 28, announced the trophy winners today.

The trophies will be donated by Thomas McKee Post 28.

Only two divisions did not report champions. The girls doubles had no applicants, the women's doubles' title match was not played.

Other winners follow: girls singles — Gaynell Scalise; boy's singles — Jim Baker; boy's doubles — Jim Baker, Jack Cherkin; women's singles — Mary Katsuleris. Men's singles — Jim Baker; Men's doubles — Jim Baker and Buzzy Zilko.

The Monessen Recreation Department tennis program has now closed another successful season with approximately 165 students between the ages of 10 and 17 taking part in the program.

Willie Will Go To Frisco But Heart's in N. Y.

NEW YORK (UP)—Willie Mays says he'll "follow the crowd" to San Francisco but it's obvious his heart still lies in the Polo Grounds, where he is the only attraction pulling in the lost remaining diehards today.

"I'll miss this place," said the Giant center fielder, gesturing toward the familiar Polo Grounds' landscape. "I'll miss it more'n anybody knows. The fans have been great to me here...I feel like this is my home and these are all my friends.

"But I go where the team goes. If it's San Francisco, that's it I've been there a coupla' times. Exhibition games, you know. It seemed okay to me. Struck me as a real big city, with a lot of people, just like this one."

Like most of the other Giant players, Willie frequently inquires of baseball writers, "Hear anything new about us moving?"

He hasn't allowed his curiosity to bother his playing performance, however.

Mays' .329 batting average is topped only by Hank Aaron of the Braves and Stan Musial of the Cardinals, and he is flashier than ever in the outfield.

Only 7,587 fans turned out to watch the Giants beat the Dodgers, 9-4, Thursday, and there was little doubt from their pre-game comments that a substantial number of them plunked down the admission price merely to see Mays.

Ten fans entering the main gate were asked what was their chief reason for attending the game. Six of the 10 said they came to see Mays. Three others identified themselves as Dodger fans, and one said he came out to the park simply to get away from his wife.

Steelers Kickoff 1957 Season Tonight, Meet Bears in Exhibition

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP — The Pittsburgh Steelers kickoff their 25th football season tonight with an exhibition match with the Chicago Bears, western division champions, at the Gator Bowl.

The Steelers have trounced Chicago three times in exhibition play, but in 10 National Football League contests, the Steelers have never won. The Bears are the only team Pittsburgh has never beaten in league play.

On hand for Pittsburgh will be a host of rookies, including the highly touted Lenny Davison of Purdue and halfbacks Ralph Jelic, Curley Johnson and Dick Hughes.

All eyes will be on Johnny Lattner, former Notre Dame great, who is returning to the Steelers after a two-year Army hitch. Lattner's right knee has been giving him serious trouble. He is scheduled to start at defensive left safety.

Rosi Wants Title Shot After Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Paolo Rosi, the balding but bullish Italian who now calls New York his home, was clamoring for a shot at the lightweight title today on the strength of a revenge victory over Baby Vasquez of Mexico.

Vasquez scored an upset technical knockout over Rosi last December at Miami, but the Italian slugger came back to gain a split decision in their 10 - round rematch Friday night at the Exposition Center. Rosi weighed 136 pounds for the nationally-televised bout while Vasquez scaled 135.

The voting was close, with judge Walter Beck favoring Rosi, 48-46, and judge Tom Knuckles voting for, the Italian, 47-46. Referee Dan Leslie favored Vasquez, 47-41.

District Grid Teams Awaiting Monday Drills

All valley high school grid teams are anxiously awaiting the "call to arms" Monday for the opening of 1957 grid drills.

Monday is the first day officially permitted for practice under WPIAL rules.

Physicals were given at practically all schools this week and some equipment issued.

On the local scene Coach Armand Niccolai greeted only 37 candidates at the exam session Friday but expects considerable more to report for drills Monday at which time they will be given their examinations prior to working out for the first tme.

Charlero reported 62 hopefuls at the "physicals" session. Figures were available from only one other Big Five school, Monongahela, where 55 players were on hand foe Coach Al Cree to look over in anticipation of the opening drills.

Coach Bap Manzini at Bellmar received a pleasant surprise when 45 turned out at the Hurricane meeting Thursday. Uusually about 25 to 30 boys report there and not many more are added on the opening day of practice. This time, however, Manzini says he definitely knows there will be more boys out Monday to add to the largest total reporting there in several seasons.

Weir Definitely Out of Coaching

Athletic Director Jim Weir of Rostraver. High. School announced today that he definitely is not returning to the coaching ranks. Weir made the announcements to quell rumors since his name was linked with the junior high assistant's post at Rostraver.

"I only offered to help out until an assistant was named by the board. I only want to help with the fundamentals at practice sessions and definitely are not interested in returning to full-time coaching," Weir added.

Charleroi Rallies to Top Perryopolis, 5-4; Meet Again Tomorrow

Early 4-0 Perry Margin Vanishes; New Eagle-Fayette City Monday

Charleroi overcame a 4-0 Perryopolis lead in their third Mon Valley League playoff tilt at Charleroi last night to take a 5-4 decision and a 2-1 lead in the series.

The two rivals clash again tomorrow afternoon at Perryopolis with the Merchants having an opportunity of advancing to the championship series against either Fayette City or New Eagle with another win.

Only two extra base blows were struck.

Perry's Tom Havadich and Charleroi's Billy Majeski cracking out a double and homer respectively.

Majeski's blow was an inside the park job against the wind, the diminutive shortstop showing surprising power. His round-tripper came in the fourth and tied the count, 4-4.

Perry took the 4-0 lead in the first two innings only to see Charleroi peck away with one in the second, two in the third, another in the fourth and the winning marker in the fifth frame.

The winning marker crossed at the fifth when Larry Papini singled, and came all the way around when Jim Lazzari also singled and the ball went through Perry leftfielder Vargo.

Charleroi used three hurlers, Carl Witmyer, Fred Uhlman and Fred Briggs while Perry called upon Steve Hancharik and Morris.

Uhlman was the winning pitcher. He fanned Don Mains and Capporella in the seventh to nip a Perry rally attempt.

Havadich was the hitting star of the game despite playing for the losers as he went three for four.

In the other playoff set in the Mon Valley League, New Eagle leads Fayette City, 2-0. Thursday's tilt between the two clubs ended in a 3-3 tie. They will clash again Monday night at Fayette City.

Rams Show Power In Shellacking Redskins by 45-14

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Coach Sid Gillman's Los Angeles Rams, cellar dwellers last season, announced their intention of climbing to the top this year by jumbling the Washington Redskins, 45-14, Friday night in a professional football exhibition game.

A crowd of 85,871 turned out for the game staged for the Los Angeles Times charities in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The victory was the Rams' first in three consecutive pre-season games against the Redskins under Coach Joe Kuharich.

Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin led the Ram offense, completing 16 out of 26 passes for 227 yards and five touchdowns, and Ram rookies, halfback John Arnett and place kicker Paige Cothren, lived up to expectations.

Boasting a one touchdown lead at halftime, the Ram defensive unit intercepted two Redskin passes in each of the third and fourth periods. One was good for a 36-yard touchdown romp by defensive guard Lee Richter and two others were turned into scores.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

Equipment Problem

Too often the golfer will choose his set of clubs strictly on the basis of what some other player is doing with a set like them. He may find, for instance, that another member of his foursome has improved his game by getting some clubs with longer, more whippy shafts. So, naturally, he orders some with longer and whippier shafts for himself. After all, he's got to "keep up with the boys."

This is so wrong it's not even funny! The other player may have the kind of swing (slow and smooth) that goes well with whippy shafts. Does this mean that you have, too? For you clubs with shorter and stiffer shafts might be just what you need.

There's a simple way to find out: ask your professional. He makes his living by knowing about just such things. He'll be happy to advise you — because that's his business! Don't "follow the fold" in golf; it just won't pay off!

Bums Snap Bucs' Win Streak

Roebuck Saves Win For Podres

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates' four-game winning streak ended Friday night with a 4-1 loss to Brooklyn.

Johnny Podres, who pitched steady ball for eight and one-third innings, was credited with his 10th victory for the season. The loser was Bob Purkey, who defeated the Bums three times this year.

Podres allowed only five hits through the first eight innings, but with one out in the ninth he issued a walk and gave up another hit. Ed Roebuck replaced him and retired the last two batters to end the game.

A two-run fifth inning in which the Dodgers kayoed Purkey sewed up the game.

Pittsburgh scored a run in the second on Bill Mazeroski's single and Hank Foiles' double, but the Dodgers tied it in their half on Gil Hodges' double, a fly ball and Charley Neal's sacrifice fly.

Brooklyn took the lead in the fourth when Purkey hit Neal with a pitch and the Dodger shortstop stole second. Don Zimmer's single scored him.

In the fifth, Podres helped his own cause with a leadoff single. Then came singles by Carl Furillo, Hodges and Elmer Valo.

The Pirates moved to Brooklyn today for the rest of the series

Hebert Leading In St. Paul Open After 36 Holes

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP) — Jay Hebert, a 34-year-old Purple Heart veteran, held the 36-hole lead in the $24,000 St. Paul Open with a 13-under-par 131, but a swarm of par - breaking professionals were breathing down his neck today.

Hebert, older brother of PGA champion Lionel Hebert, carded a 7-under-par 65 Friday to go with his first-round 66. His sparkling putter was used only 25 times in the round and he tallied seven birdies. For the 36 holes, Hebert has collected 13 birdies and no bogies.

He had a two-shot lead over Ken Venturi of San Francisco, who fired a steady 67 after an opening-round 66.

Three players, including first-round leader Bob Rosburg, of San Francisco, were grouped at 134, 10-under par and three shots off the pace. The others were Big George Bayer, golf's longest hitter, and Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.

Sam Snead, a pre - tournament favorite and the event's leading money winner, came storming back into contention with a 66 after starting with 69. He was bunched with five other players at 135.

Others with Snead were defending champion Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y.; Bo Wininger, Odessa, Tex.; Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill.; three-time British Open winner Peter Thomson, of Australia, and Howie Johnston, Houston, Tex.

ABA Baseball Tourney Nears Final Contests

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (UP)—Philadelphia meets Milford, Mass., today in one of three contests in the near-final stages of the 11th annual All-American Amateur Baseball Association tournament.

In other games, undefeated Brooklyn and Baltimore battle and once-defeated Washington and Zanesville, Ohio, meet with the loser eliminated.

Either once-defeated Philadelphia or Milford also will be ousted following today's play in the double elimination tourney.

In Friday's competition, Brooklyn shutout Philadelphia, 7-0; Baltimore defeated Milford, Mass., 10-2; Zanesville, Ohio, ousted New Orleans, 9-3, and defending champion Washington eliminated Buffalo, 7-6.

In the Brooklyn - Philadelphia contest, Frank Ciraulo got two safeties in five trips at bat to lead the Brooklyn offensive. He drove across two runs in the first inning with a double and batted across two more in a five-run second inning.

Don O'Neill absorbed the Philadelphia loss, his first defeat in 11 starts this season.

Ted Sidelined With Stiff Neck

WASHINGTON (UP) —Ted Williams, sidelined by a stiff neck Friday night, hoped to be back in action against Washington today so he could resume his battle with Mickey Mantle for the American League batting crown.

While Williams was forced to sit out Friday night's game between the Red Sox and Senators, his league-leading average remaining at .393, Mantle collected two hits in four official trips against the Baltimore Orioles to raise his mark two points to .382.

Williams said he woke up with a stiff neck Friday morning after an all-night train ride from Boston. He took batting practice before Friday night's game but barely was able to hit a ball out of the infield.

Veterans Tee Off In Amateur Go

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Golf veterans Dick Semple and Sam Musico teed off today in a 36-hole match to determine the winner of the 57th Western Pennsylvania Amateur Golf Tournament.

The two triumphed Friday through the quarterfinal and semi-final rounds of match play at Allegheny Country Club.

The 38year-old Semple, of Allegheny, defeated medalist Fred Paine, of Oakmont, in the afternoon semifinal round, 3 and 2, while 1953 champion Musico, 43, of Chartiers, narrowly edged Bob Reilly of Highland, 1 up, in 20 holes.

In morning rounds, Semple defeated Richie Manns, Duquesne University student, 6 and 5; Musico downed Mickey Steiner, Baldoc Hills, 2 and 1; Paine ousted Steve Savor, Alcoma, 4 and 3, and Reilly defeated Harry Gray of Shanopin, 4 and 3.

Basilio Planning Submarine Attack For Sugar Ray

By JACK CUDDY

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N.Y. (UP) —Carmen Basilio, back in the ring after an eight - day boxing layoff, is throwing more right hands than usual and using the lowest bob-weave of his career.

The welterweight champion, who might be called a "right-handed southpaw," definitely is preparing a submarine attack to try to win the middleweight title on Sept. 23 from Sugar Ray Robinson, the tallest opponent he ever fought. And apparently that attack will include more right smashes to body and head than he threw in any previous bout.

In the past, the left hook has been Basilio's 6-1 weapon. He threw about six lefts to one right. As he resumed sparring Friday, he surprised observers by shooting almost half as many rights as lefts in three bruising rounds with middleweight Lee Owens of Syracuse, N.Y. He was particularly effective with rights at close quarters.

Thirty - year - old Carmen is a southpaw in most respects. He writes left-handed and instinctively picks up objects with his left. However, he has always fought from the right - handed stance, with the left foot forward. And he throws a ball with his right. But he never could hit as hard with the right as with the left.

The eight-day boxing layoff was ordered by co-managers Joe Netro and Johnny DeJohn to prevent any possibility of staleness at this early stage of training and to give him a chance to practice prolonged bursts of firing against the heavy (100-pound) bag.

Basilio used some of those bursts Friday against 165 - pound Owens, who was belted back on his heels several times, but never actually hurt by the big 14-ounce training gloves.

DEMPSEY SPARMATE DIES

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Edward R. Mahoney, 57, a former sparring partner for Jack Dempsey, died Friday in St. Francis Hospital. After retiring as a boxer, Mahoney served on the San Francisco police force for 32 years.

Paul Richards in Line for Own Special Triple Crown

By MILTON RICHMAN

Paul Richards was in line for a "triple crown" of his own today—"manager of the year," "executive of the year," and the honor of being the only man in history ever to lead the Baltimore Orioles to a first division finish.

Manager Richards has the Orioles in fourth place today, only four games behind the third-place Boston Red Sox.

Baltimore reached the .500 mark Friday night when they defeated the league-leading New York Yankees, 4-3, in 11 innings. Pinch-hitter George Kell drove in Billy Goodman, who had tripled, with an 11th-inning single off Art Ditmar after Yogi Berra sent the game into overtime with a pinch homer off winner Bill Wight in the ninth inning.

Despite the setback, the Yanks retained their 5½-game lead when the Tigers beat the second - place White Sox, 6-2. The Indians defeated the Athletics, 4-2, and the Senators blanked the Red Sox, 5-0.

NL Streaks End

The Cardinals snapped their nine-game losing streak and Milwaukee's 10-game winning streak with a 6-2 victory over the Braves. Brooklyn topped Pittsburgh, 4-1; the Giants beat the Phillies, 8-7, in the completion of a suspended game of April 28, then defeated Philadelphia again, 2-1, in a regularly-scheduled contest. The Cubs won their fourth straight with an 8-6 decision over the Redlegs in 12 innings.

Back-to-back homers by Ray Boone and Charlie Maxwell highlighted a four - run fourth inning rally that gave Detroit its win over the White Sox. Left-hander Billy Hoeft scattered 11 hits for his fifth victory. The game, at Detroit, had been threatened by a strike of concession workers but 37,445 fans attended after a picket line was withdrawn because of a court injunction.

Southpaw Chuck Stobbs halted Washington's five - game losing streak with a five-hitter against the Red Sox for his sixth victory. The Senators scored four of their five runs off George Susce Jr., sewing up the game with a three-run rally in the fourth inning.

Rocky Colavito's two-run homer, his 21st of the year, broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning and helped Mike Garcia post his sixth triumph. Dick Williams also homered for the Indians in the first inning. Both homers came off loser Alex Kellner.

Forty-two-year-old Walker Cooper and Del Ennis supplied the big blows in the Cardinals' win over the Braves. Cooper hit a two-run double off loser Gene Conley in the first inning and Ennis belted a three-run homer off Juan Pizarro in the seventh. Lindy McDaniel was the winner although three pitchers followed him to the mound.

Podres Stops Pirates

Southpaw Johnny Podres ended a four-game Pittsburgh winning streak although he needed Ed Roebuck's assistance in the ninth. Bob Purkey yielded single runs in the second and fourth innings, and was driven from the mound in the fifth when the Dodgers scored two more runs on four singles.

After Marv Grissom pitched 2 2-3 scoreless innings to give the Giants their victory in the suspended game which was resumed in the seventh inning, Ray Jablonski slammed a two-run homer in the ninth to produce another Giant triumph in the regularly-scheduled contest. Jablonski hit his homer off Robin Roberts, who suffered his 16th loss against eight victories. Stu Miller was the winner in relief of Johnny Antonelli.

Walt Moryn's two - run homer off Don Gross in the 12th inning prolonged the Cubs' winning streak and handed Cincinnati its fourth straight loss. Ernie Banks also homered for the Cubs while Frank Robinson connected for the Redlegs. Reliever Jim Brosnan was the winning pitcher after taking over for starter Don Elston in the eighth inning.

BPS Exterior Paints Resist Any Discoloration So Use Them Now

Some exterior paints resist discoloration, an expert points out, and that is why in an area like Monessen and the Valley where there is a lot of acid and fumes from mills in the air, it will pay you to use BPS paints, sold by the Monessen Plumbing & Electric Co., 535-537 Donner avenue.

Among the many advantages of living in this highly industrialized country is that not only can we afford to own our own homes but also we can paint our houses when we feel that they need it.

One of the disadvantages of living in this industrial country is that the fumes from certain industries will react with the pigments in the paint and you get bad discoloration of said paint.

It seems that the fumes from a good many factories contain hydrogen sulphide gas and when this mixes up with the lead pigment in house paints, the paint sort of turns dark.

This can be pretty sad if the paint is supposed to be white. It's not quite so bad on the darker colors but it certainly doesn't help them.

If you live in a community where there are factories and you've had trouble in the past with discoloration of outside paint, the next time you paint use one that does not contain a lead pigment.

There are other pigments besides lead that do make a satisfactory paint and won't be harmed by the gases in the fumes.

Another point we might as well make now that we are on the general subject of paint discoloration is the choice of colors.

White is probably the most popular color for a house but if you live in an area where the white becomes soiled rapidly you can save yourself a lot of time, money and effort by using a color paint that won't show dirt so easily.

Most men know that you can wear a colored shirt about twice as long as you can a white shirt and this is about the same way with house paints where they are going to be subject to soiling from soot and things of that nature.

Wallhide from Derby's Wears For Long Time

You can paint an attractive setting in your home in double-quick time with rubberized Wallhide, a Pittsburgh paint product, which is easy to use and wears wonderfully.

Wallhide along with other Pittsburgh paint products is sold in Monessen and the Valley by Derby's Construction & Supply, 443 Donner avenue.

Even if it's your first try, you can paint a smart, modern background like this in your own bedroom, quickly and easily, with rubberized Wallhide.

This remarkable wall paint glides on smoothly with brush or roller. Stop and start as you please. No laps, no brush marks will mar its velvety sheen. There's no unpleasant painty odor. Dries in less than half an hour.

Its tough, elastic surface resists marring and scuffing. Wash it again and again — yes, scrub off stubborn stains — without spotting or streaking. That's why rubberized Wallhide is the perfect paint for homes with active children.

Now color-plan the easy way! You'll find hundreds of thrilling new hues in the handy Maestro Color Selector, at your Pittsburgh Paint dealer's store.

1. Portfolio of Decorator "Dream" Rooms. Your Pittsburgh Paint dealer will gladly give you a free copy of a beautiful portfolio containing complete information on paints, furnishings and accessories in this room and many others designed by leading decorators.

2. Book of Modern Color Suggestions. Also ask your Pittsburgh Paint dealer for a free copy of the attractive booklet, "Living in Color". It contains scores of modern decorating ideas for your home, inside and out, and many practical painting hints.

Frank's Service Garage Rebuilds Wrecked Autos

There's a great deal of pleasure in driving a car that has a new paint job on it, where the fenders do not have "kinks" or dents in them, and where generally — even though it may be an old model — you have tried to keep it looking modern — up-to-date!

The family enjoys riding in a car like this certainly more than they do in one that looks like it is ready for the junk heap.

Most people do take pride in their automobiles today. But some are careless.

It is surprising what skilled auto body and fender repair men can do to give that "old bus" a new look. With skilled hands and modern tools they can remove all traces of fender and body bumps. Then a coat of paint, new auto glass if needed and you look like you are driving a 1957 model. It will amaze you, too, if you stay away from the shop until the entire job is done — for many old and badly damaged cars can be restored to a new appearance again in these modern dys.

Then, too, if you are going to trade your car in on a new one, you'll likewise be pleasantly surprised to find the new car dealer is ready to give you quite a bit more because your car is what they call "clean." It looks better!

Franks Service Garage, 122 East Donner avenue in Monessen, has been in the auto repair, auto body, fender repair and car painting business here for years as well as being DeSoto-Plymouth sales and service dealers.

Naturally with this experience you are going to get the very finest in skilled workmanship.

Free estimates will gladly be given.

"Teeming" in the steel industry is a term which applies to pouring molten steel into ingot molds.

Blimp Ditched; Crew Rescued

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. (UP)—A Navy reserve blimp, caught in a thunderstorm, ditched in the Atlantic Ocean about midnight and a fishing vessel rescued the entire crew early today.

The Coast Guard reported 16 men were aboard the blimp, enroute from the Glynco, Ga., Naval Air Station to Lakehurst, N.J.

Officials at Glynco said, however, there were only nine men aboard and that "all appeared to be in good condition" following the ditching in Pamlico Sound off the North Carolina coast.

The fishing vessel was scheduled to rendezvous with a 30-foot Coast Guard patrol boat which would take the rescued men to Wanchese, N.C., where they were to be transported to an airport at Manteo, N.C.

Pre-nuptial Party Held Recently for Betty Gunnox

Mrs. George Kosisky Jr., of Perryopolis, held a pre-nuptial Courtesy party recently for Miss Betty Jane Gonnox, of Des Plaines, Ill., the prospective bride of Frank Warren Neth, of Perryopolis R. D.

The decorations were carried out in the traditional wedding colors, with a beautiful centerpiece of summer flowers and yellow tapers on the table.

In the center, an angel food cake baked in the form of a double wedding ring and a watermelon basket filled with fruit salad made a lovely dining table.

For the guests, heart-shaped sandwiches were also served, with relishes, mints and coffee and punch.

Guest List

The guest list included Mrs. Irene Neth, the groom's mother; and Mrs. Dora Berggren, his grandmother, of Sutersville.

Assisting the hostess were Miss Libby Kosisky and Miss Betty Joyce Neth.

The bride-to-be received many gifts. Following the party, Mr. and Mrs. George Kosisky Jr., and family, and Miss Libby Kosisky, left for Des Plaines, Ill., to attend the wedding, which is scheduled for today.

Pilgrimage to Canadian Shrine

A pilgrimage to the shrine of St. Anne, near Quebec, Canada, was made recently by a Perryopolis group.

The Rev. John Stofcik, pastor of St. John Baptist Church, led the local group.

The trip was planned by the Eastern Greyhound Bus Co.

Carol and Sue Sager, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sager, of Perryopolis, are spending their vacation in Michigan.

FBI Says Woman Fleeced Doctors Of About $100,000

ATLANTA (UP)—The FBI today fingered Mrs. Margaret Lydia Burton, veteran "con artist" of the tea and crumpets set, as the master embezzler who fleeced a group of local doctors of $100,000.

Mrs. Burton, said the FBI, is the so-called Mrs. Janet Gray, who wormed her way into the best social set in suburban Decatur, dipped into the till of a local clinic where she worked to the tune of some $100,000 and then made a circus style escape from the city as auditors closed in on the swindle.

The FBI said the prime career of the 51-year-old Mrs. Burton, a woman of many aliases and many talents, spanned the ocean and covered a continent.

Honolulu, Panama City, Los Angeles, Vancouver, New Orleans, Denver, St. Louis, Atlanta—all provided happy hunting grounds for the remarkable Mrs. Burton, whose exploits and escapes read like a paperback novel.

Graham Advises Young People to Quit 'Petting'

NEW YORK (UP) — Evangelist Billy Graham advised young people Friday night that petting as a preparation for marriage is permissible for Christians, but "the other kind" of petting is a sin.

He told his Madison Square Garden audience of 18,500 persons, the majority of them teenagers, that young people should preserve their "purity, the greatest gift you can give the person you are going to marry."

Graham advised girls not to allow their boy friends to "paw" them, not to allow themselves to be "pawed and smudged by everyone who comes along."

There is nothing wrong with sex, the evangelist said, as "it's part of God's plan for you to be attracted to the opposite sex."

As a substitute for "the other kind" of petting, he advised young people to take nice long walks, participate in athletic activities, and go to church often.

"My wife says that in the first year of our courtship church was the only place I took her," he said. He added that 'I never kissed my wife until I put the ring on her finger."

The state Justice Department, which holds the only wiretapping equipment in the state government, announced it will turn it over to the Property and Supplies Department for sale.

A department spokesman said the devices are used only for tapping telephone lines, but contains parts which can be used for lawful purposes.

Two Teen-Age Boys Sail Alone Across Lake Erie

DETROIT (UP)—Two mothers rested easier today after learning thei. teen-aged sons were safe at the end of a 200-mile, non-stop sailing voyage from Erie, Pa., to Grosse Point, Mich.

After four days in Lake Erie without a navigator, Richard Silther, 5, of Jackson, Mich., and William Borowy, 18, of Erie, moored their 54-foot sailboat "Intrigue" Thursday and rushed to call their mothers.

The boys were returning the craft to Howard Haarer, of Grosse Point, who had asked Silther to sail it home from Erie. Silther requested Borowy to join him. They left last Sunday.

Borowy told his mother before departure they were supposed to pick up a navigator in Ohio.

"But we decided to go it alone," he said.

When Borowy's frantic mother asked them why they took four days for a trip that normally can be completed in two days, Borowy replied:

"We took time out."

Lawrence Says Bloom 'Flabby'

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Mayor David Lawrence says George Bloom should talk.

On Wednesday, Bloom, the Republican state chairman, said Lawrence was getting "old and tired" and Pittsburgh voters were ready to retire him to pasture.

'George Bloom should know a lot about pastures," Lawrence replied today. "He has been in one for years. That's what makes him so fat, and flabby."

The Democratic mayor said he felt fit and trim, and ready to campaign for his fourth term.

Pennsy Railroad Claims Big Loss

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The state Public Utility Commission was told today that the Pennsylvania Railroad loses $200 a year for each passenger it carries on its Philadelphia commuter service.

Your Health—

Newer Curbs for Hypertension

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Low blood pressure, generally, is an asset. In fact, some authorities on the subject term it the "ideal" blood pressure. Low blood pressure simply means that it requires less effort for your heart to push blood through your arteries.

But while you might not have anything to worry about as far as low blood pressure is concerned, high blood pressure, or hypertension, sometimes is quite another matter.

An estimated 5,000,000 Americans suffer from hypertension, Every one of them should at least consult a doctor for his advice.

Many persons, women especially, are able to stand high blood pressure better than others. If you are one of them, it is quite possible that your doctor will advise no treatment at all. If such is the case, consider yourself lucky.

But even if your doctor does recommend specific treatment, you are still a pretty lucky person. Science and Medicine have advanced so far in recent years that the future for a victim of hypertension is more favorable than ever before

Still you've got to be a bit patient with your doctor We have developed so many new drugs to aid the person with high blood pressure that it sometimes is a little difficult to select the best one for a specific patient

Response to these various drugs varies greatly with individual patients Consequently, your doctor may have to test several drugs and combinations of them to find just the right one for you

In addition to drugs, your doctor probably will advise you to.

Get plenty of sleep, don't become involved in competitive sports, don't worry, and keep your weight about normal.

About this latter problem, don't embark upon any reducing program without seeking your physician's recommendation. Reducing and low-sodium diets might be harmful if not properly supervised.

Murphy to Lead Fight Against Scandal Mags

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — George Murphy, the actor who became movieland's ambassador of goodwill, rallied filmtown today to fight back at Confidential and other scandal magazines by organizing a vigilante committee.

"We've got to set up the machinery to prevent such a thing as this Confidential trial from ever happening again," Murphy said.

As president of the powerful Motion Picture Industry Council and director of public relations at MGM, Murphy is in a position to form a sort of watchdog committee

"We'll start out with a meeting, under the auspices of the industry council, composed of all the guilds and unions in Hollywood—the actors, writers, producers, directors and technical guilds. The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists will be included.

"From there we can set up a permanent organization with the best legal counsel to expose publishers and editors who produce these falsehoods about Hollywood personalities.

"An educational campaign will be formed to combat the lies with the facts and truth."

Murphy believes the public would rather read clean stories about screen heroes and heroines.

"Right now our people are almost defenseless to protect themselves," he said.

"This trial is a shameful procedure. All the old stories are being rehashed, creating embarrassment all over again. The general reaction in the industry is one of disgust.

"Most big stars will overlook scandalous, untrue stories rather than deny them," which only makes a second story. Thus readers suspect there is some basis for the truth.

"Once a story is printed the damage is done. With this new organization chances are we can stop many of these stories before they get started, and if they are published we can bring out our own side of it."

Murphy said the stars he has talked to about such a committee are all for it.

"Fortunately I've never been mixed up in any thing like a scandal," Murphy said. "I don't set myself up as being smarter than my fellow actors. It's probably just a question of good luck.

Heat Is Held by Valve

Travelers returning from a stay in some of the newer hotels in Japan built since the war tell of seeing a thermometer suspended by a chain and pulley arrangement over the bathtub. The object is to enable the bather accurately to determine the temperature of the bath water before he ventures into the bathtub.

Americans characteristically accomplish the same purpose more quickly and more efficiently by means of a mixing valve. Irrespective of fluctuations in water temperature or pressure, the mixing valve holds the temperature of the water at the exact degree desired by the bather.

But no matter how you arrive at the temperature, it takes a water heater to provide you with all the hot water you need for showers, baths, laundry, washing dishes, and other purposes, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau reminds us.

And it is during the summer months that the demand for hot water reaches its peak for the year. Thus it is in the summer that the deficiencies of present water - heating equipment are most likely to be felt by all members of the family.

Because of the steadily growing demand for hot water in American homes, sizes of water heaters currently being sold are much greater than those which were being installed a few years ago, the Bureau points out.

Today a 30-gallon automatic water heater is regarded as minimum in size. Householders are advised that water heater dealers have charts which guide them in suggesting the right size of water heater for their customers, depending on the number in the family, the number of bathrooms, and the number of water-using appliances.

Wise to Examine Prefab Homes

Families planning to build or remodel a home would be wise to investigate prefabricated building kits now on the market.

These components range from patio kits and packaged bathrooms to complete wood window and door units plus knocked-down closets and cabinets. Complete roof and wall assemblies also are available.

The value of these components to the homeowner and builder is two-fold:

1. The units come assembled or are pre-cut and can be put together quickly, saving hours of expensive labor.

2. Components such as the ponderosa pine pre-hung panel door units and ponderosa pine windows with frame and sash fitted together, are made of parts machined for each other with factory precision. They work better and fit tighter.

Most of these components can be obtained from building-material dealers.

Hobby Table Enriches Home

A family hobby table — roomy and hardy enough to accommodate a variety of activities at the same time — can enrich leisure time in the home.

Not only does such a table serve as a tool in itself, but it can encourage members of the family to understand and appreciate the others' interests, and it can foster the enjoyment of doing things together.

The hobby table should be big enough so that everyone who wants to may use it without cramping anyone's style. It should be solid and sturdy. And it should have a top that needs no pampering.

An old table, perhaps a round dining table that has been relegated to the attic or thrift sop, can do very nicely. Refinis the legs, maybe tighten a few bolts or screws, and give it a new top.

Paper Pudding

A "pudding" made from newspapers soaked in water makes an excellent mulch for the garden. Soak the newspapers well in a large container of water, stir into a pulpy, well-shredded mass, and pour around the base of plants. The pulp dries to a mat that chokes off weeds and helps retain moisture in the ground.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A TOWEL RACK-BATHROOM DIVIDER

A novel towel rack and bathroom divider may be easily made by the home craftsman.

First, measure the height of the ceiling to determine the length of the uprights. The ceiling and sole plates are 18 inches long but can be varied to individual circumstances. The frame is made of 2 by 3-inch lumber. Next, measure and mark the location of the towel bars on the uprights. Drill a hole at each bar location 1¼ inches in diameter and ¾ inch deep.

Attach an upright to a wall stud where the divider is to be located. Fasten the horizontal framing in place. Use 8-penny finishing nails. If the floor is tiled, the sole plate can be glued to the floor or expansion anchors inserted in holes drilled in the tile and the sole screwed in place.

The towel racks are cut 19 inches long. A ½-inch section at the ends of each rod is grooved for a tighter dowel joint. Glue, and pin the rods in place with finishing nails.

New Plumbing Puts Cottages in Shape

Plumbing contractors located in resort areas report unusual activity this summer in the modernization of summer cottages by the installation of water systems, bathrooms, and modern kitchens.

In many cases the older cottages which have had bathrooms for a number of years are now being brought up-to-date by the installation of new fixtures and additional equipment.

Operation Home Improvement for the summer cottage, like other plumbing work, can be financed on the deferred payment plan. As a convenience to the owner, plumbing contractors are offering a complete package modernization deal in which they assume the responsibility for the work of other craftsmen involved.

Plumbing contractors will take the contract for the entire job including septic tank and water system as well as the plumbing fixtures, and they will arrange for the financing.

Because every summer cottage usually has more than its quota of guests, the compartmentized bathroom, which allows for the use of two or more fixtures simultaneously, is a popular arrangement, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

The installation of a shower cabinet in addition to a shower over the bathtub is recommended by the Bureau. An additional shower cabinet in a room near the beach entrance to the summer cottage will be appreciated by the bathers.

Louver Doors Aid Air Conditioning

Louver doors, between rooms and on closets, make home air-conditioning systems work more efficiently. They also add interest to any decorating scheme with their "textured" appearance.

The tilted slats in louver doors of ponderosa pine permit cooled air to circulate more readily from room to room while still maintaining privacy. On closets, the air moving through the slats prevents musty odors and deters moths.

Build Stadium Without Post

Imagine a sports arena which seats up to 15,000 spectators, not one behind a post. Such a structure was completed recently at Montana State College.

Key feature of the building is its timber dome, 300 feet in diameter. This is a record-breaking span for glued laminated timber construction — the technique used in fabricating the dome.

The network of glued laminated arches and purlins soaring to a peak of 90 feet, rests on columns standing outside the perimeter walls of the arena.

Right Equipment Makes Car Washing Easier, Say Experts

Experts in any field do their jobs the simplest way they can to save time and unnecessary work. The same holds true in automobile washing and by following the methods used by car-washing experts, you'll do a professional-looking job with little effort and time expended.

The most important single suggestion these experts offer is to have the right equipment. Rubber boots will prevent wet feet and a sturdy stool or stepladder will enable you to reach the car top easily. Other equipment should include a large sponge, two galvanized steel pails, a garden hose and a chamois or discarded bath towel with which to wipe the car dry.

Use one of the two pails for soapy water and the other for clean rinse water. Two pails will save making an extra trip for rinse water. If soap is allowed to stand on the finish too long, it will cause hard-to-remove streaks and can dull the paint. Don't use soap at all if there is wax on the car, since soap would remove the protective coating.

As in most things, start at the top and work down. Wash only a small area at a time before rinsing with the hose. Use lukewarm or cool water on the car's finish. Use the chamois or bath towel to remove most of the water on the car's surface. Exterior chromium trim may be washed with hot soapsuds. After rinsing the brightwork, polish with a soft dry cloth. Avoid harsh abrasives which will wear off soft chromium. Whitewall tires may be cleaned with a steel brush and an abrasive household cleanser.

Don't neglect the interior while sprucing up the exterior. Wring out the chamois or towel in clear water and wipe off the dashboard, windows and mirrors. A whisk broom or vacuum cleaner will remove most of the dust particles on seats and floor mats.

Seat safety belts should be removed and scrubbed in a galvanized steel pail filled with hot soapsuds to remove ingrained dirt. Safety engineers say clean seat belts may reduce injuries. Many people won't fasten dirty belts lest clean suits or dresses be soiled.

Elderly Pines

Ponderosa pine trees grow 100 to 150 years before they reach saw-timber height. The lumber from these stately trees is easily machined and products from it can be made to accurate dimensions. It is used for most wood windows and panel doors in the U. S. today.

Good Walls Help To Beat Heat

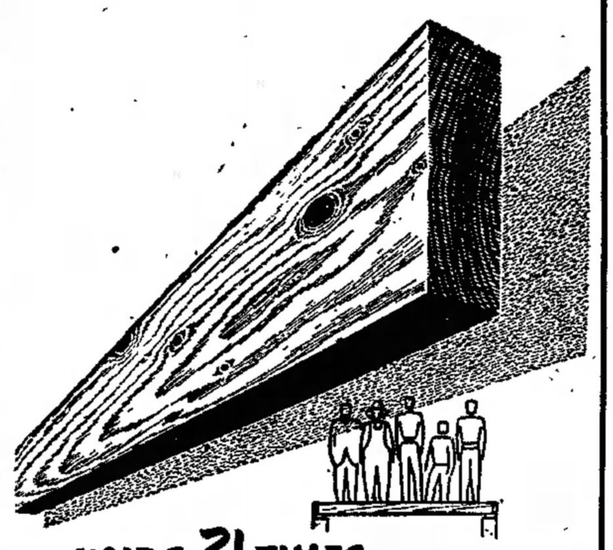
In medieval times, knights and fair damsels lucky enough to live in stone castles weren't bothered too much by hot weather. The thick walls kept out heat as well as warlike invaders.

Today, man could escape heat in much the same way by building his home with walls of equally massive stone, brick, or concrete. Instead, science provides him with modern insulation that fits neatly in thin wall spaces and in ceilings.

The fact is that a four-inch thickness of mineral wool insulation will stop as much heat penetration as 12 feet of concrete or 74 inches of brick.

This is because mineral wool is composed of mineral fibers surrounding millions of dead air spaces. These spaces reduce heat flow into a house in summer and keep expensive heat inside in winter.

Because of their lighter weight, today's bats can be swung later, giving the batter a split-second longer to judge a curve or slider.



HOLDS 31 TIMES ITS OWN WEIGHT!

That's right. A Douglas Fir 2x6, ten feet long, weighs only 25.4 pounds, yet can support an 800-pound load. This high strength factor makes lumber ideal for countless building and remodeling uses.

Use lumber for these building or construction projects you have in mind. And see us for quality lumber and other materials you'll need. Free estimates if desired.
